Art Unit: 1655

Claims 1-20 have been examined on the merits and found allowable.

Reasons for Allowance

The prior art does not teach or reasonably suggest an oral composition for treating dry eyes comprising effective amounts of the recited ingredients, as claimed. The closest prior art appears to be that of Troyer et al. (US 6,506,412) which teaches an oral composition for treating dry eyes which comprises effective amounts of some of the instantly claimed ingredients. However, there is insufficient motivation for the skilled artisan to further include the other instantly claimed ingredients therein.

Conclusion

Claims 1-20 are allowed.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
